CENSUS OF SCOTLAND—1881.

REPORT.

REPORT

TO THE

RIGHT HON. SIR WILLIAM VERNON HARCOURT, Q.C., M.P.,

Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

CENSUS OFFICE, EDINBURGH, 9th August 1883.

SIR,

WE have now the honour to present to you the Second Volume of the Census of Scotland, containing Abstracts of the Ages of the People, their Civil Condition, Occupations, Birthplaces, as also the number of Persons receiving Instruction at each year of life, in accordance with the provisions of the Act 43 and 44 Vict. c. 38, entitled An Act for taking the Census of Scotland.

In this Volume the Abstracts are made for Registration Counties and Districts, not for Civil Counties and Parishes. Were this not the case these Abstracts would not be comparable with the Returns of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, as issued from the Office of the Registrar-General for Scotland, and which must be made, not for Civil Parishes and Counties, but for Registration Districts and Counties. But in the case of the Principal Burghs, i.e. those with a population of 10,000 and upwards the returns are prepared to afford information relative to the inhabitants resident within their Municipal or Parliamentary boundaries. In all cases throughout this volume the population of the shipping is included.

Abstracts in this Volume are drawn up for Registration Counties and Districts; also for Municipal and Parliamentary Burghs.

In Vol. I. p. 190, will be found a Table showing the differences between the Populations of these two, which are not inconsiderable, due to the fact that by the Registration Act it is enacted, 'that where a Parish shall be constituted a Registration District, that Parish shall for the purposes of Registration be held to be 'within the County in which the Parish Church is situated.'

As in former Censuses, Scotland is divided according to the density of the population in various parts, locality, &c., by which means we are enabled to present facts in small bulk, by means of Tables, which otherwise could not be done. Upon this occasion the whole Country is divided, first, into two great portions, Northern and Southern, which are again subdivided into eight Divisions, five being in the Northern, and three in the Southern, and in each of these Divisions are found the various Counties grouped geographically.

Again, for more brief computation and comparison, Scotland is divided into five groups of Districts, viz., Principal Towns, Large Towns, Small Towns, Mainland Rural, and Insular Rural Districts.

In the Principal Towns group of Districts are included all Towns with populations over 25,000; Large Town Districts are those with populations between 10,000 and 25,000, the Small Town group comprises those towns with populations from 2000 to 10,000; while in the Mainland Rural Districts we include all the remaining Rural Districts on the Mainland, and in the Insular Rural those on the Islands.

Summary of Five Series of Abstract Tables.

The Five series of Abstract Tables in Vol. II. may be summarized as follows:—

XI. AGES OF THE PEOPLE in Scotland in 1881, in its Registration Divisions, Counties, Districts, Groups of Districts, and Principal Burghs, together with the Ages of the Blind, Deaf and Dumb, Imbeciles, Lunatics, Inmates of Charitable Institutions, &c.

XII. EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS of Scotland, showing the number of Boys and Girls and of such as were in the Receipt of Education, at each Year of Life up to the fifteenth Year, in the Registration Divisions, Counties, Districts, Groups of Districts, and Principal Burghs.

XIII. CIVIL OR CONJUGAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE in Scotland, in the Registration Divisions, Counties, Districts, Groups of Districts, and Principal Burghs.

XIV. BIRTH PLACES OF THE PEOPLE in Scotland, in its Registration Divisions, and Counties and Principal Burghs.

XV. OCCUPATIONS OF THE PEOPLE in Scotland, in its Registration Counties, and Principal Burghs.

AGES OF THE PEOPLE.

Upon Appendix Table XXI., will be found the Population of Scotland, Males and Females at the Census Years 1871 and 1881, in quinquennial periods, with the increase or decrease at each age during the ten years, to which is added the percentage of Males and Females at each of these periods of life in 1881. From this Table it is seen that the Male Population of 1871, was 1,603,143, while that of 1881, was 1,799,475, an increase during the ten years of 196,332, or 12·2 per cent. The Female Population at the same periods being 1,756,875, and 1,936,098, a gain of 179,223, or at the rate of 10·2 per cent. During the ten years the total increase of the Population of Scotland being 375,555, or 11·17 per cent. The increase of the Males is at the rate of 2 per cent. more than that of the Females.

Increase of Males and Females at different Ages.

The Males between the age of birth and 5 years, are 258,425, constituting 14·362 per cent. of the Males at all ages, an increase of 27,619, or 11·9 per cent. over the similar lives at the Census of 1871, and among the Females, the corresponding numbers are 252,166, or 13·024 per cent. of the whole Female Population of Scotland, an increase of 27,352, or 12·2 per cent. over those at the last decennial periods. The greatest rate of increase among both Males and Females is between the ages of 20-25, when there was in the case of the Males, an increase of 28,121 persons, over the corresponding number at the same age at the Census of 1871, or 20·3 per cent., while in that of the Females, the increase is 23,149 souls, or 15 per cent.

Males preponderate over Females between birth and 20 years of age, the numbers being in the case of the Males (0–5) 258,425, (5–10) 227,783, (10–15) 205,748, (15-20) 189,673; and in that of the Females (0–5) 252,166,(5–10) 222,241, (10–15) 199,243, and (15–20) 188,597. At all ages after this the Females are greatly in excess of the males. On Table XXII. are found the ages of the Population for 1861 and 1871, for ready comparison.

These points are also seen on Table XXIII. which gives the relative proportion of males and females in every hundred persons at each quinquennial age in Scotland in 1881, and also the proportion of females to every hundred males for the three Divisions of the United Kingdom. The proportion for all Scotland, is at the present Census 107·6 Females for every 100 Males, a gain on the part of the former as to a nearer approach to a balance between the two sexes, inasmuch as at the Census of 1871, it stood at 109·6. In Ireland the proportion is 104·3 Females to every 100 Males.

Decrease of Population at advanced Ages.

The steady increase of both Males and Females receives a check, however, towards the end of life, for there is a fall in the numbers returned among both sexes in the case of the Male at 85 years of age, in that of the Female at 90. The Males of these ages in 1871, being 489, between 90–95; between 95 and 100, there were 99; and from 100–105 and above, they were 23; in all 611. At the present Census these numbers have fallen to 471, 93, and 17 respectively, a total of 581; the decrease therefore being 30.

Among the Females a similar condition occurs in 1871, between 90–95 years of age there were 982, between 95–100, the number was 241, between 100–105, it was 50, and above 6, a total of 1279; while in 1881, they are 954, 214, 36, and 4, a total of 1208, and a falling off, therefore, of 71. If we take the decrease in the Males between 85–90 Years of Age, the additional diminution in their case is 53.

On Table XXIV. there is for comparison the population per hundred thousand of Males and Females in Scotland, at quinquennial ages, as at the Census for 1861, 1871, and 1881, and upon Tables XXV.–XXVI. is the Population for England and Wales, and for Ireland, with the percentage at different ages, arranged as for Scotland in Table XXI.

Increase or Decrease of Population in the Five Groups of Districts.

Populations,—or parts of them,—in these days of easy rapid locomotion, vary considerably from time to time in the various Districts of different Counties, and to find in which parts of Scotland this has most materially taken place, Table XXVII. may be consulted,—in which the Country is presented as divided into five Registration Groups of Districts.

The area of each of these Districts has been equalized for 1871, to what each is at the present Census, so that the variations of increase or decrease, may be considered correct. We find from this Table that in the Principal Towns, there is an absolute increase of 217,596 persons, of which 133,394, is due to excess of Births over Deaths in the same. The difference of 84,202, being therefore made up of immigrants into those towns from other places. In the Large Town Districts, the total increase is 61,063, the excess of Births over Deaths being 55,597, the difference 5466, being, as before, due to immigration. In the Small Town Districts the increase of Births over Deaths is 121,735; now, as the total increase of their population is only 93,838, the difference, 27,897, has to be accounted for by inhabitants of those towns migrating to other Districts or Lands during the decennial period ending with the Census year 1881. In the Mainland Rural Districts, while the absolute increase is 4674, the excess of Births over Deaths is 145,529, so that we presume the large number of 140,855 persons, left these parts for others. On the other hand in the Insular Rural Districts, there is an absolute loss of 1616 inhabitants, although the Births exceeded the Deaths by 12628, consequently 14,244 persons had left these Districts to seek work and a living in other parts of the Kingdom or of the World.

In Table XXVIII. we find the actual numbers living at quinquennial ages in Scotland, and in each of its five Divisions, while in Table XXIX. is presented the percentage of males and females for each of those Districts at the same periods of life.

The information gained from these Tables shows, as has been done before, that although the proportion of male births to female is as 105·6 is to 100, still after a certain age, in no case after 20–25, but most frequently between 15–20 years, the females are in excess of the males.

Sexes most nearly equal in Number.

The sexes in Scotland are most nearly equal (with the males preponderating, however), between 15–20 years, when the excess of males over the females is 1070. At this quinquennium the same occurs in the Large Town Districts, with the excess of males 545, in the Small Town Districts, where the males outnumber the females by 734; and in the Insular Rural Districts with a male excess of 82; whilst the like occurs in the Principal Town Districts, between 5–10 years of age, the excess of males being 544, and in the Mainland Rural Districts between 20–25, when the males exceed the females by 783.

After these ages in all cases the numbers of the female sex is greater than that of the male at similar periods, and in each of the five Registration Groups.

In considering the number of females between say 35–45, it may be borne in mind, that probably not a few of those ought to be returned at greater ages, and so lessen the numbers at the above mentioned years, as it is known some women object to be above 35 or so, or are apt to linger there and thereabout for too long a time. Table XXX. gives the number of emigrants from the United Kingdom during the years 1871–1881, according to their nationalities, as far as can be done.

Ages of the Males and Females and their proportion to the total of each Sex in Counties and Burghs.

On Tables LII. and LIII. we have the Ages of the Males and Females in Scotland at Five Periods of Life, and in their proportion to the total Males and Females in each Group of Districts, Division, and County, and would only refer to the last three columns, giving the percentage at the ages 20–40, from 40–60, and 60 years and above for the different Counties.

Between 20–40 we find the average percentage for all Scotland in the case of Males to be 28·543, or, in other words, of the male population of Scotland, 28,543 in every 100,000 are within the above years of age.

The Counties most under this average are Wigtown, with 23·815 per cent.; Kincardine, with 23·415 per cent.; Shetland, with 22·717 per cent.; Banff, with 22·712 per cent.; and lowest is Kinross, with 22·209 per cent., while highest above the average is Dumbarton, with 30·182 per cent.; Renfrew, with 30·400 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 31·643 per cent.; and Lanark, with 32·505 per cent.

Between 40–60 years of age the proportion of Males to the total Male population in each County is pretty uniform, varying from 14·644 per cent. in Selkirk, to 18·141 per cent. in Sutherland, the mean for all Scotland being 15·652 per cent.

At 60 and above, the average percentage for men in Scotland is 6·811, and the variations above and below this are well marked in several Counties; those most below are Dumbarton, with 5·574 per cent.; Linlithgow, with 5·422 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 5·396 per cent.; Renfrew, with 5·190 per cent.; and lowest is Lanark, with 4·385 per cent.; or at the rate of 4385 in every one hundred thousand. The highest proportions of men at the advanced ages occur in Caithness, where 11·192 per cent. are present; Orkney, with 11·874 per cent.; Sutherland, with 12·313 per cent.; Shetland, with 12·405 per cent.; and Kinross, with 12·613 per cent.; or 12,613 per every hundred thousand of Male Population.

In the case of Females (Table LIII.), the mean for all Scotland between 20–40 years of age, is 29·314 per cent. Most under this is Sutherland, with 25·613 per cent.; Kincardine, with 25·506 per cent.; Orkney, with 25·290 per cent.; Banff, with 25·141 per cent.; Kinross, with 25·019 per cent.; and Caithness, with 24·326 per cent.; and most marked above it, is Dumbarton, with 30·210 per cent.; Forfar, with 30·442 per cent.; Peebles, with 30·606 per cent.; Renfrew, with 30·906 per cent.; Lanark, with 31·228 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 32·230 per cent.; and Selkirk, with 32·666 per cent.

Between 40–60 years the mean percentage for Females in all Scotland is 17·434. Most below this is Ayr, with 16·081 per cent., and Linlithgow, with 15·719 per cent.; and over it, Sutherland, with 21·020 per cent., and Shetland, with 22·371 per cent.

Above 60 years of age the mean for all Scotland is 8·717 per cent. among Females, and most below this comes Linlithgow, with 7·072 per cent.; Renfrew, with 6·861 per cent.; Selkirk, with 6·627 per cent.; and Lanark, 6·058 per cent.; while at the other extreme is Caithness, with 14·006 per cent.; Orkney, with 14·400 per cent.; Sutherland, with 16·315 per cent.; and Shetland, has 16·417 per cent.; or for every one hundred thousand Females 16,417 are at the advanced ages, Lanark having only 6058 in like proportion.

Tables LIV. and LV. afford similar information in the case of the Burghs in Scotland, having Populations of 10,000 and upwards, and taking the same ages as in the case of the Counties, we find on Table LIV. that, in the case of the Males between 20–40, the average of the Total Burghs being 31·517 per cent., that most below this is Forfar, with 23·848 per cent.; Montrose, with 23·391 per cent.; and Arbroath, with 23·345 per cent.; and above, Partick, with 35·366 per cent.; Govan, with 35·601 per cent.; and Maryhill, with 38·161 per cent.

Between 40–60 years, the mean percentage of Males in the Burghs is 15·477, varying most markedly below, in Govan, with 13·795 per cent.; Kinning Park, with 13·782 per cent.; Galashiels, with 13·710 per cent.; Maryhill, with 13·364 per cent.; and Motherwell, with 13·123 per cent.; and above, is Montrose, with 16·416 per cent.; Inverness, with 16·531 per cent.; Stirling, with 16·607 per cent.; and highest is Perth, 17·124 per cent.

From 60 years of age and above, the mean in the Burghs among the Males is 4·946 per cent. Most below this is Motherwell, with 2·983 per cent.; Maryhill, with 2·743 per cent.; Govan, with 2·721 per cent.; and Kinning Park, with 2·257 per cent. While above the mean is Perth, with 7·201 per cent.; Inverness, with 7·291 per cent.; Dysart, with 7·629 per cent.; Arbroath with 7·754 per cent.; Dunfermline, with 8·051 per cent.; and Montrose, with 8·907 per cent.

In the case of the Females we see from Table LV. that the mean proportion of them between 20–40 to the total women in the Burghs is 31·758 per cent.; but that in Motherwell there is only 27·580 per cent.; in Airdrie, 27·286 per cent.; in Montrose, 27·258 per cent.; Peterhead, 26·882 per cent.; and in Wishaw, 26·233 per cent.; whilst most above the average is Maryhill, with 33·370 per cent; Partick, with 33·703 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 33·908 per cent.; and Galashiels (Parliamentary), with 34·539 per cent.

Between 40–60 years among the Females most below the average, which is 17·240 per cent., is Partick, with 14·969 per cent.; Rutherglen, with 14·888 per cent.; Motherwell, with 14·532 per cent.; Govan, with 14·301 per cent.; Maryhill, with 14·295 per cent.; Kinning Park, with 14·281 per cent.; and highest above the mean is Perth, with 18·353 per cent.; Dundee, with 18·413 per cent.; Arbroath, with 18·991 per cent.; Inverness, with 19·027 per cent.; and Montrose, with 19·736 per cent.

At 60 years and over, the average in the Burghs among women, is 7·029 per cent. ; the most marked variations below and above being in Partick, with 4·977 per cent.; Govan, with 4·082 per cent ; Maryhill, with 4·026 per cent.; Motherwell, with 3·769 per cent. ; and Kinning Park, with 3·091 per cent. ; or 3091 per 100,000 ; and above, in Dumfries, with 9·141 per cent. ; Ayr, with 9·180 per cent. ; Aberdeen, with 9·305 per cent. ; Stirling, with 9·409 per cent. ; Perth, with 9·493 per cent. ; Arbroath, with 9·495 per cent. ; Inverness, with 10·833 per cent. ; and highest is Montrose, with 11·779 per cent. ; or 11,779 in every 100,000 Females, while in Kinning Park the number was only 3091.

THE BLIND.

The total Blind in Scotland at the Census of 1881 is 3158, of whom 1556 are Males and 1602 Females. Of the whole number, 280 were blind from birth, 134 being Males and 146 Females ; while 2878 became so after birth ; 1422 Males and 1456 Females (Table XI. p. 75).

The proportion of Blind to the Population of Scotland is 1 in every 1182 persons. Among the Males 1 in every 1156 is so affected ; among the Females 1 in every 1208 ; or out of every 100,000 Males, 86 are Blind ; the like proportion of the other sex being 83 ; or again, 845 persons per million of the Population are so designated in the Schedules.

From birth 1 in every 13,341 of the Population is Blind ; the proportion being 1 in every 1298 in those who by disease or accident became so after birth.

At last Census the total Blind in Scotland were 3019, or 1 in every 1112 of the inhabitants was so afflicted.

Ages of the Blind

On looking to the Ages of the Blind, Section XI., commencing at p. 75, the number of Blind Males is found to exceed that of the Females, until the age of 60 is attained, after which the case is reversed, and the Female Blind are most numerous. Again, the number of Blind Males gradually increases from birth until the 60th year of life, after which they begin to fall off ; but in the case of the other sex their numbers go on increasing (putting aside a falling away between 30–40) until the age of 80 is reached, after which they also decline in number.

Dividing the Blind at the 50th year of life, we find that under that age 811 Males and 548 Females, together 1359, so suffer in Scotland, or 1 person in every 2342 is Blind. The Males returned as Blind over 50 years number 745, the Females 1054 together 1799, or at these more advanced ages, 1 person in every 306 is thus affected.

Under 20 years of age, the Males are 245, the Females 161, together, 406, or during those early years of life 1 in every 4295 suffers in this way.

Proportion of Blind to population in Divisions and Counties.

Table XXXI. gives the proportion of Blind in every million persons in Scotland, its Divisions and Counties ; and while in the former the proportion is 845 per million, this is exceeded in four of the Divisions, being greatly so in two of them, viz., in the North-Eastern, where the proportion is 848 per million, and in the South-Eastern, 982 ; whilst in the North-Western it rises to 1404, and in the Northern to no less than 1726 per million. On the other hand, with a proportion under that for the whole Country, are the Southern District with 754, the South-Western with 748, the West Midland with 705, and the East Midland with 703 Blind persons per million of their inhabitants.

Among the Counties we find the largest number of Blind in Forfar with 196, Aberdeen 250, Edinburgh 450, and Lanark 735, to be accounted for to a great extent by the presence in the chief Towns of these Counties, Dundee, Aberdeen, Edinburgh, and Glasgow, of so many Charities, and among others Special Asylums for the Blind, both old and young, who come to them from all parts of Scotland. Blind persons are found in the greatest proportion to the Population in the Northern Counties ; thus Orkney has 1311 per million, Ross and Cromarty 1497, Sutherland 1519, Caithness 1731, and in Shetland they are in the large proportion of 2323 Blind per million of its Population ; whilst in Selkirk, on the other hand, they are but 76 per million.

Occupations of the Blind.

Occupations of the Blind.—On Table XV. p. 885, we find under the Six Classes into which the Occupations are primarily divided, that in Class I., PROFESSIONAL, there are returned 110 Males and 29 Females ; in Class II., DOMESTIC, 7 Males and 61 Females ; in Class III., COMMERCIAL, 46 Males and 1 Female ; in Class IV.,

AGRICULTURAL, 138 Males and 31 Females; in Class V., INDUSTRIAL, 600 Males and 166 Females; and in Class VI., UNOCCUPIED, 655 Males and 1314 Females; a total of 1556 Males and 1602 Females.

Under the Orders into which these Classes are subdivided it is seen in Table XV. p. 885 that in Order 3, Class I., Professional Occupations, 104 Males and 29 Females are returned, of whom 24 Males and 19 Females are Students or Scholars, 59 Males and 2 Females Musicians or Music Teachers, and 4 Males and 6 Females are School or other Preceptors. In Order 4, Class II., Domestic Offices or Services, 7 Males and 61 Females are included, of whom 1 Male and 49 Females are domestic indoor Servants. In Order 6, Class III., 33 Males and 1 Female are connected with Conveyances. In Order 7, Class IV., Agriculture, 121 Males and 30 Females are found, of whom 65 Males and 14 Females are returned as Farmers or Graziers, and 26 Males and 16 Females as Agricultural Labourers or Farm Servants. In Order 8, Class IV., 17 Males and 1 Female are presumed to gain a livelihood in attendance upon Animals and in Fisheries, 14 Males and 1 Female being connected with the latter. Class V., which contains a larger number of Males and Females returned as having an occupation than any of the others, viz., 600 Males and 166 Females, is subdivided into 15 Orders, of which Orders 11, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, and 22 contain the largest numbers; thus Order 11, Occupations connected with Houses, Furniture and Decorations, returns 72 Males and 8 Females, of whom 44 Males and 8 Females are Upholsterers. Order 16, Food and Lodging, returns 73 Males and 6 Females of whom 40 Males are Grocers. In Order 17, Textile Fabrics, 98 Males and 75 Females are employed for the most part as Cotton Manufacturers, Rope Makers, Mat Makers, Weavers and Knitters, of the latter, there being 50 Females. In Order 18, Dress, 25 Males and 65 Females are employed, 30 Females being Seamstresses and 29 are employed in the Manufacture of Hosiery, 8 Males being Tailors and 11 Shoemakers. In Order 20, Vegetable Substances, 103 persons are employed, 100 Males and 3 Females, and of these 87 Males and 3 Females are Basket Makers. In Order 21, Mineral Substances, 69 Males are employed, 28 being Miners, 23 of them Coal Miners, 11 are Iron Manufacturers. No Females appear in this Order. In Order 22, General or Unspecified Commodities, 92 Males and 8 Females appear, 24 Males and 4 Females being Hawkers, and 52 Males and 1 Female General Labourers. In Order 24, Class VI., those Without Specified Occupations, there are 491 Males and 1205 Females; and in Order 25, Class VI., 164 Males and 109 Females are returned, 60 Males and 30 Females being Blind Scholars, and 104 Males and 71 Females, Blind Children of no stated occupation. These points are fully seen on Table XV. p. 885, but we fear they can hardly be considered as quite correct, and probably the occupations of not a few of the Blind as returned in this Table should be in the past instead of in the present tense.

DEAF AND DUMB.

At the Census the number of Deaf and Dumb persons in Scotland was 2142, of whom 1149 were of the Male sex and 993 of the Female. Of this number 1078, viz., 560 Males and 518 Females, are said to be Deaf and Dumb from birth; whilst 1064 were not born so, 589 of these being Males and 475 Females. The proportion of Deaf and Dumb per million of Population is 573, or there is 1 Deaf and Dumb person in every 1744 of the inhabitants of Scotland; at the last Census it was 1 in every 1610, so that an improvement has taken place during the decennium. The decline in the proportion of Deaf and Dumb to the Population occurs over the whole of Scotland and in all its Divisions, except in the South-Western, where there is an increase, the rate at last Census being 528 per million, while at this one it is 546.

Ages of Deaf and Dumb.

Deaf Mutism is an affection of early life chiefly, as is seen by Table XI. p. 75, where we find the greatest number occur at early years; e.g., between birth and 20, there are 826 cases of it, 456 Males and 370 Females, or one in every 211 persons under that age is a Deaf Mute.

After this age there is a steady decline in the number of those thus affected: between 20–30 we find 423 reported, as against 487 between 10–20 years of age; between 30–40 there are 290, between 40–50 there are 240, between 50–60 there are 163, between 60–70 there are 124, and at ages above this only 76 Deaf and Dumb individuals are returned.

1078 persons are mentioned as having been born Deaf and Dumb, but this is not probable, as it is now a well recognised fact that comparatively few infants are so brought into the world, and it is equally well known that over and above the so-called diseases of childhood which are a common cause of Deafness, Simple Affections of the Throat common at all ages when chronic may cause such alterations in the Eustachian tube and Middle ear as to cause Deafness, and consequently Dumbness when occurring in the person of an infant or in early childhood, ere speech has been quite attained.

Again, a mother even, and more often other friends, may forget that a young person once heard in very early life, because the Deafness as brought on by the afore-mentioned causes occurred so long ago that the present condition is accepted and remembered only, the earlier being forgotten.

Proportion of Deaf and Dumb to population in Divisions and Counties.

Table XXXI. shows that the largest proportion of Deaf and Dumb are to be found in the Northern and North-Western Divisions of the Country, as in the case with the Blind, whilst the smallest is in the Southern Division. The greatest number of Deaf and Dumb occur in Aberdeen, where there are 126, in Forfar 144, in Renfrew 220, in Edinburgh 363, and in Lanark 427 (Section XI., commencing at p. 76), to be accounted for in the same way as in the case of the Blind, because of the Charities in the Chief Towns of these Counties for the maintenance and education of those so afflicted.

Occupations of Deaf and Dumb.

On looking at Table XV. p. 885, the occupations of the Deaf and Dumb will be found. In Class I., PROFESSIONAL, 32 Males and 24 Females find their occupations; in Class II., DOMESTIC, 5 Males and 76 Females: in Class III., COMMERCIAL, 14 Males and 1 Female; in Class IV., AGRICULTURAL, 107 Males and 40 Females; in Class V., INDUSTRIAL, 556 Males and 204 Females, and in Class VI., UNOCCUPIED, there are 435 Males and 648 Females.

In Order 3, Class I., Professional Occupations, there are 32 Males and 24 Females, 1 Male and 5 Females being School Teachers, 15 Males and 16 Females Students; 3 Painters, 9 Engravers, and 1 Sculptor, all Males. In Order 4, Class II., Domestic Offices or Services, there are 5 Males and 76 Females, and 4 of the Males and 60 of the Females are Indoor Servants. In Order 7, Class IV., Agriculture, the total is 39 Males and 38 Females, of whom 11 Males are Farmers or Graziers, and 24 the sons of such, 42 Males and 38 Females are Agricultural Labourers or Farm Servants, and 7 Men are Gardeners. In Order 8, Class IV., About Animals and Fisheries, there are 14 Males and 2 Females, 15 of whom (13 Males and 2 Females) are connected with the latter. In Order 9, Class V., Books, Prints, and Maps, there are 46 Males and 1 Female, 21 Males and 1 Female being Bookbinders, 15 Males Printers, and 10 Lithographers. In Order 11, Class V., Houses, Furniture, and Decoration, there are 78 Males and 3 Females, and of the former 19 are Joiners, 12 Masons, 9 Painters, 14 Upholsterers, and 9 Carvers; 2 of the Females are French Polishers. In Order 17, Class V., Textile Fabrics, there are 39 Males and 58 Females; 1 Male and 10 Females are employed in Cotton Manufactories, 5 Males and 5 Females are Weavers, 6 Males and 16 Females Factory Hands Undefined. In Order 18, Class V., Dress, there are 157 Males and 114 Females, 88 of the former and 7 of the latter being Tailors, 76 Females Milliners or Dress Makers, and 15 Seamstresses. In Order 22, Class V., General or Undefined Commodities, there are 79 Males and 14 Females, and of these 67 Males and 6 Females are returned as General Labourers. In Order 24, Class VI., Without Specified Occupations, we find 91 Males and 370 Females, and in Order 25, Class VI., there are of Deaf and Dumb Scholars, 187 Males and 154 Females; and of Children of no Stated Occupation, 157 are Males and 124 are Females.

INSANE.

Proportion to population.

The number of Lunatics in Scotland is returned as 8406, the Males 3939, and the Females 4467, in the proportion of 2250 per million, or 1 in every 444 of the Population.

This, as compared with the numbers at last Census, shows no improvement, rather the reverse, the proportion then being 2021 per million, or 1 in every 494 of the total Population.

As may be supposed, the number of Lunatics, i.e., individuals not congenitally affected with Insanity, are, at the early years of life comparatively few. They rapidly increase, however, after the age of 20, attaining their maximum at 50, the largest number appearing between 30–60, during those years of life when perhaps both mind and body are most harassed by business work, and its necessary worries in the case of the Male, and in that of the Female by family and other anxieties or excitements which are in these advanced times almost inseparable from life in either sex.

Ages.

Thus, up to the age of 20, there are but 152 Lunatics, 92 Males and 60 Females, in the proportion of 1 to every 11,473 of the Population at the same ages; from 20–30 years, there are 1403, or 1 in every 451 of the Population of the same years; between 30–40 there are 1890 or 1 in every 237; from 40–50 the numbers are 2060, or 1 in every 174; and from 50–60 they are 1629, or 1 in every 160 of the Population at the same age. Over 60 we find 1632, or 1 in every 163 of Population at these most advanced years of life.

Up to the age of 40, the Male Lunatics outnumber the Female, there being 1673 of the former, or 1 Lunatic in every 834 of the Male Population of Scotland up to this year of life; while of the latter there are 1412, or 1 for every 1012 of the Female Population under 40. On the other hand, after 40 years, the Female Lunatics are more numerous than the Male, inasmuch as now the Females are 3055. or 1 in every 165 of the Female Population over 40; while the Males are 2266, or 1 in every 178 Males above the like age.

The number of Lunatics in the various Counties is found to be mainly in accordance with the presence or absence in them of Asylums—private or public—for the Insane; and some of the latter being combination, i.e., for more than one County, it naturally follows that the number of Insane in some of them is small or even "nil," as in Selkirk; and large in others where they are concentrated, as Edinburgh, with 1319 (p. 76).

IMBECILES OR IDIOTS.

Their number in Scotland is 5,991, viz., 2896 Males and 3095 Females, i.e., 1 Imbecile in every 623 of the inhabitants throughout the Country, or 1603 for every million of Population. This, on comparison with the numbers at last Census, shows an increase of this sad condition, the corresponding numbers at that time being 1 Idiot in every 727, or 1375 Imbeciles per million of the Population.

Ages.

On looking to the ages at which the greatest number of these appear, we find that under 5 years there are comparatively few, viz., 75, of whom 45 are Males and 30 Females. After this they rapidly increase, from 5–10 years there being 400, from 10–20 they are 1266, of whom 724 are Males and 542 Females. After this they gradually diminish from 20 30 years, being 1103, from 30–40 they are 822, from 40–50 they are 672, from 50–60 they are 563, from 60–70 they are 525, from 70–80 they are 349, from 80–90 they are 192, and at ages above this 24.

Up to the age of 30 the Males outnumber the Females, but after this the reverse obtains; the total Males under 30 being 1579, the Females 1265; but over 30 years the Males are 1317, while the Females number 1830.

Proportions in various Counties.

On comparing the proportion of these as returned in several Counties to the total Populations of the same, we find that in Nairn 1 person in every 369 is an Imbecile, in Inverness 1 in every 356, in Elgin 1 in every 350, in Orkney 1 in every 337, in Caithness 1 in every 309, in Ross and Cromarty 1 in every 273, and in Shetland 1 in every 245. On the other hand, in Kirkcudbright it is 1 in every 556 persons, in Berwick 1 in every 578, in Haddington 1 in every 592, in Linlithgow 1 in every 698, in Peebles 1 in every 912, while in Selkirk only 1 person in every 1098 is so unfortunate (p. 76).

Of the total number of Imbeciles, 1128(595 Males and 533 Females) are said to have been so from birth; while not a few of the non-congenital, numbering 4863 (2301 Males and 2562 Females), may in all probability be represented by some of those old and chronic cases of dementia which are incurably insane.

THOSE IN CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS AND THE SICK AND HURT IN INFIRMARIES.

The number of Benefited Inmates of Charitable Institutions on the Census night was 14,946, or 9768 Males and 5178 Females, i.e., 1 person in every 250 of the total Population, or at the rate of 4000 per million.

In Hospitals and Infirmaries for the Sick and Hurt there were under treatment 3060 persons, 1728 being Males and 1332 Females, or 1 person in every 1221 of the Population (p. 75).

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

4006 Soldiers occupied barracks and forts throughout the Country on the Census night, and 691 Blue Jackets and Marines, also 7 Females, were on board Her Majesty's Ships at the same time. Of those belonging to the Merchant Service 6751 were on board their Ships, 6392 Males and 359 Females (p. 75).

EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS.

Section XII. commencing at p. 77, is devoted to the Educational Statistics of the Country, and affords full information as to the number of Boys and Girls, and of such as were in the receipt of Education, at each year of life up to the fifteenth year in the Registration Divisions, Counties, Districts, Groups of Districts, and Principal Burghs; and on Appendix Table L. and LI., is a summary of the same, with in addition the percentage at three series of Ages of those enjoying Educational Privileges to the Population at each group of Ages, and it is to these latter we most frequently refer.

Of the total Population of Scotland, 3,735,573, there are 510,591 under 5 years of age, 855,015 between 5 and 15 years, and 2,369,967 above this age.

Number and Proportion of those in Receipt of Education.

In the receipt of Education there are 14,152 Infants under 5 years of age, 675,314 between 5 and 15, and 30,633 above the latter age. A total of 720,099, or in other words 2·77 per cent. of the Population under 5 years of age, are being educated, 78·98 per cent. of those between 5 and 15, and 1·29 per cent. of those over the latter age are still prosecuting their Studies either for the entry into a profession or for some other good reason. The total percentage of those in Scotland receiving instruction to the whole Population being 19·28 per cent. (Table XXXII.)

At last Census, that of 1871, the total number then being educated was 574,121, and of those at the early age, under 5, there were 10,025; those between 5 and 15 numbered 541,995; and over 15 years 22,101, i.e. 2·19 per cent. of those under 5 years were being instructed, 69·77 per cent. between 5 and 15 and 1·04 per cent. when over 15 years of age. The total percentage to the whole Population of the Country being 17·09, so that during this last decennium we find a larger proportion of the young Population are undergoing instruction than at the Census of 1871 (Table XXXII.)

The total of both Sexes under 15 receiving Education is 689,466, and thus 18·45 per cent. of the whole Population at the same ages is thus employed, as against 16·42 per cent. at 1871; and if we include those over 15 years or Students, we find that the percentage to the whole Population is 19·28, as against 17·09 at last Census.

On looking at the numbers of those who are being educated at early Ages, it is found (Section XII. commencing at p. 78) that in Scotland 17 Infants before their second year of life is completed (8 Males and 9 Females) are stated to be imbibing knowledge, we may almost say with their mother's milk, a most cruel and hurtful state of things. Between the 2nd and 3rd year of life no fewer than 331 are being taught something or other (162 Males and 169 Females), and we see that this is chiefly occurring in Aberdeen, Forfar, Fife, Inverness, Edinburgh, and Lanarkshires, in which six Counties 201 of the 331, viz., 100 Males and 101 Females, are being thus, let us hope, simply amused.

From 3 to 4 years of age 2601, and between the 4th and 5th years 11203 Children have commenced their Education.

Table XXXII. also gives similar information for those Burghs with over 10,000 Inhabitants, and with a total Population of 1,640,360 of whom there are 227,052 under 5 years of age, 358,792 between 5 and 15, and 1,054,516 over the latter age. Of those under 5 years, 6092 are in receipt of Education, or 2·68 per cent.; from 5–15 they number 270,950, or 75·52 per cent.; while above 15 years they are 13,972, or 1·32 per cent. are similarly circumstanced. The total number in receipt of Education in the Burghs being in the proportion of 17·74 per cent.

Two Male and three Female Infants between the 1st and 2nd year of life are returned as having commenced their Education in the Burghs, Section XII. commencing at p. 138. Between the 2nd and 3rd years, 142 (Males 65, Females 77) are being instructed for the most part in Aberdeen, Dundee, Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Perth, where 127 of the 142 are thus returned, 63 being Males and 64 Females. From the 3rd to the 4th year 1217, and from the 4th to the 5th 4728, are undergoing schooling in the Burghs.

Education in the Counties.

Upon glancing over Table LVI. a knowledge may be gained as to the numbers and proportion of the Young in the Counties who are attending school or attaining their Education in other and more private ways, as by tutors, governesses, &c. Of those under 5 years the proportion for all Scotland is as before stated 2·77 per cent. of those of similar ages. This is most exceeded in the Counties of Caithness with 4·03 per cent., Roxburgh with 4·08 per cent., Fife with 4·16 per cent., Forfar with 4·65 per cent., Elgin with 4·67 per cent., Perth with 4·68 per cent., Inverness with 5·04 per cent., and Nairn with 6·97 per cent., whilst most under the mean is Renfrew with 1·87 per cent., Selkirk with 1·63 per cent., Lanark with 1·60 per cent., Dumbarton with 1·31 per cent., and Ayr with 1·27 per cent.

At ages between 5 and 15 the average percentage of those in receipt of Education in Scotland to the Population of the same years is 78·98, which is most exceeded in Orkney with 85·59 per cent., Ross and Cromarty with 85·88 per cent., Kirkcudbright with 85·90 per cent., Elgin with 85·98 per cent., Banff with 86·04 per cent., Nairn with 86·53 per cent., Caithness with 87·71 per cent., and Inverness with 87·86 per cent.; most under the mean are Forfar, with 76·49 per cent., Renfrew with 75·40 per cent., Bute with 74·89 per cent., Dumbarton with 74·87 per cent., and Lanark with 72·69 per cent.

Above 15 years of age the average percentage of those who are still engaged in their studies in Scotland is 1·29. This is most exceeded in the Counties of Edinburgh with 2·43 per cent., in Inverness with 2·53 per cent., and Caithness with 2·59 per cent.; most under the mean being Berwick with 0·53 per cent., Linlithgow with 0·51 per cent., and Selkirk with 0·29 per cent.

Education in the Burghs.

Table LVII. affords like information as to the Burghs, and as above, first note those under 5 years, when we observe that 2·68 per cent. of such over the whole Population of these Towns are learning something. This proportion being most exceeded in Hawick and Stirling each with 4·04 per cent., Aberdeen with 4·64 per cent., Dundee with 4·98 per cent., Perth with 6·12 per cent., Inverness with 7·23 per cent., and Montrose with 8·46 per cent.; and most under the mean are Dumbarton with 0·90 per cent., Rutherglen with 0·82 per cent., and Govan with 0·75 per cent.

Between 5 and 15 the average for the Burghs of those at School, &c., is 75·52 per cent. Most exceeded in Perth with 81·05 per cent., Motherwell with 81·10 per cent., Montrose with 82·76 per cent., Peterhead with 83·16 per cent., Stirling with 83·76 per cent., Aberdeen with 84·37 per cent., and Inverness with the very large proportion of 95·09 per cent.; at the other extreme stand Glasgow with 70·31 per cent., Rutherglen with 70·14 per cent., Govan with 68·90 per cent., and Kinning Park with 67·88 per cent.

At ages over 15 the mean of those still enjoying the advantages of Education in the Burghs, is 1·32 per cent. Most exceeded in Partick with 2·09 per cent., Aberdeen with 2·31 per cent., Inverness with 2·60 per cent., and Edinburgh with 3·19 per cent.; whilst most under are Rutherglen with 0·35 per cent., Galashiels with 0·24 per cent., Hawick with 0·20 per cent., and Dysart with 0·16 per cent.

Tables LVIII. and LIX. also afford information as to the numbers of those enjoying Educational Privileges, giving as they do the numbers of such Males and Females in each County and Burgh in Scotland under and over 15 years of age, as also the number of Students in the three Faculties of Divinity, Law, and Medicine. This latter point is, however, not of so much importance as it might have been, had the date of the Census-taking—April 4th—been earlier in the year, for at this date the Winter Session in the Universities is at an end for some of the Faculties, but not for others, and moreover as several examinations are in full progress, many Students remain up who might otherwise be at their own homes in various parts of the country.

We see there are 7 Females returning themselves as Students, and all in the Faculty of Medicine, 1 being in Aberdeen, 3 in Lanark, and 3 in Edinburgh Counties, and 6 of them are shown on Table LIX. to be at the date of the Census taking residing in the towns of Aberdeen, Edinburgh, and Glasgow, the seventh in Edinburgh County.

CONJUGAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

From the Census Returns of 1881, there were in Scotland on the 4th of April, 1,799,475 of the Male sex, and 1,936,098 of the Female.

Proportions of Persons of different Conjugal Conditions to the Population.

Of the Males, 1,192,713 were Bachelors, 547,772 Husbands, and 58,990 Widowers; of the Females, 1,216,921 were Single, 560,630 Wives, and 158,547 Widows. Of the whole Male Population therefore, 66·281 per cent. were Bachelors, 30·441 per cent. Husbands, and 3·278 per cent. Widowers; in other words, in every 100,000 of the Male inhabitants of Scotland, 66,281 were Single, 30,441 were Husbands, and 3278 Widowers. Among the Females, 62·854 per cent. are found to be Single, 28·957 per cent. Wives, and 8·189 per. cent. Widows, or of every 100,000 of the Female sex, 62,854 are Single, 28,957 Married, and 8,189 Widows. (Table XXXIII.).

Idem. to those only above 15 years of Age.

On dealing with those only of marriageable age, i.e., above 15 years, we find (Table XXXIV.) that there were 1,107,519 Men in Scotland over 15. Of these 500,757 were Single, 547,772 Married, and 58,990 Widowers, or 45·214 per cent. were Single, 49·459 per cent. Husbands, and 5·327 Widowers, or in every 100,000 of the Male inhabitants of the same ages, 45,214 were Bachelors, 49,459 Husbands, and 5327 Widowers.

In the case of the Women over 15 years of age, who numbered 1,262,488, there were 543,271 Single, 560,630 Married, and 158,547 Widows, or 43·033 per cent. were Single, 44·408 per cent. Wives, and 12·559 per cent. Widows, or as before, in every 100,000 of the Females of these ages, 43,033 were Single Women, 44,408 were Wives, and 12,559 Widows.

Now the difference in number between the marriageable Men in Scotland, 1,107,519, and the Females in a like condition, 1,262,488, is 154,969; in other words, the marriageable Women outnumber the Men over 15 years of age to the extent of 12·3 per cent., besides which we see on Table XXXIV., that 45·2 per cent. of those Men are still single.

On regarding the proportion of Widows and Widowers, we find a considerable difference between them; that however corresponds with the Marriage Registers of Scotland for the last 10 years, which show that in every 100 Marriages of Men in Scotland, 12·0 per cent. are those of Widowers, whereas in every 100 Marriages of Women, 6·25 per cent. are those of Widows.

Conjugal Condition of the People in England and Ireland.

On comparing the above facts with the like in England and Ireland, which is done on Tables XXXIII. and XXXIV., we find that of the total Population of England and Wales, 12,639,902 are Males, and 13,334,537 Females, and that of the former 7,828,210 are Single Men, 4,376,898 Husbands, and 434,794 Widowers, or 61·932 per cent. are Bachelors, 34·628 per cent. Husbands, and 3·440 Widowers. Of the Females 7,897,529 are Spinsters, 4,437,962 are Wives, and 999,046 Widows, or 59·226 per cent. are Spinsters, 33·282 per cent. Wives, and 7·492 per cent. Widows.

In Ireland, again, which has a Male Population of 2,532,762, and a Female of 2,641,353, there are of the former 1,740,360 Single Men, 696,542 Husbands, and 95,860 Widowers, i.e., 68·714 per cent. of Single Men, 27·501 per cent. of Married Men, and 3·785 per cent. of Widowers. Of the Females, 1,675,737 are Spinsters, 712,525 Wives, and 253,091 Widows, or 63·442 per cent. are Single, 26·976 per cent. Married, and 9·582 per cent. Widowed.

Of the Male Population in England over 15 years of age, 3,099,744 are Single,

4,376,898 are Married, and 434,794 Widowed, being 39·180 per cent. Single, 55·324 per cent. Married, and 5·496 per cent. Widowed. Of the Females at like ages, there are 3,157,404 Single, 4,437,962 Married, and 999,046 Widowed, or 36·738 per cent. are Spinsters, 51·638 per cent. Wives, and 11·624 per cent. Widows.

In Ireland as above, of the Men, 818,632 are Single, 696,542 are Married, and 95,860 are Widowers; in other words, 50·814 per cent. are Single, 43·236 per cent. are Husbands, and 5·950 per cent. are Widowers; while in the case of the Females, 783,475 are Single, 712,525 are Married, and 253,091 are Widowed, i.e., 44·793 per cent. are Spinsters, 40·737 per cent. Married, and 14·470 per cent. are Widows.

In the case of the Population of Ireland above 15 years of age, we thus find that of the three Countries, it has by far the largest proportion of the Population, according to sex, of Single Men and Women, and the smallest of those Married, only 43·236 per cent. of the Men in Ireland being Married, whilst 49·459 per cent. was the corresponding rate for Scotland; and of the Females over 15 years of age, 40·737 per cent. were Married in Ireland, while 44·408 per cent. were so in Scotland; at the same time, there is about 2 per cent. more Widows in Ireland in proportion to the Female population than in Scotland, in the former there being 14·470 per cent., in the latter 12·559 per cent.

On comparing the average number of Marriages in Scotland and Ireland for the last 10 years, we find that out of every 10,000 of Population in Scotland, 72 Marriages take place, but only 47 in Ireland.

Tables XLI. to XLVI. afford a further insight into the Conjugal Condition of Males and Females in the three Countries when divided into seven periods according to age.

Husbands and Wives.

The number of Husbands enumerated in Scotland at the Census was 547,772, and the Wives 560,630, or of the whole Male Population 30·441 per cent. were Married, and of the Female, 28·957 per cent. The difference between the number of Husbands and Wives, 12,858, represents the excess of the Husbands over the Wives who were absent from Scotland on the Census day, and in consequence were not enumerated. Of those above 15 years of age, 49·459 per cent. of the Males, and 44·408 per cent. of the Females were in a like condition.

For the proportion of Husbands to the Male Population, and of Wives to the Female, in both, within the marriageable age, viz., above 15 years, in the Divisions, Groups of Districts and Counties of Scotland, see Tables LX. and LXI., and for similar information as to the Burghs having inhabitants of 10,000 and above, see Tables LXII. and LXIII.

Proportion of Husbands and Wives in the various Counties.

Thus, of every 100 Males above 15 years of age, 41 were Husbands in Argyll; 42 in Inverness and Sutherland; 43 in Nairn; 45 in Perth; 46 in Bute, Caithness, Dumfries, Ross and Cromarty; 47 in Dumbarton, Elgin, Kirkcudbright, and Wigtown; 48 in Aberdeen, Banff, and Berwick; 49 in Edinburgh, Haddington, Kincardine, Linlithgow, Peebles, and Roxburgh; 50 in Kinross, Lanark, Renfrew, and Stirling; 51 in Ayr, Clackmannan, and Orkney; 52 in Selkirk; 53 in Forfar and Shetland; and 54 in Fife.

Among the Females above 15, we find of every 100, 33 were Wives in Shetland; 35 in Sutherland; 36 in Bute; 37 in Inverness and Nairn; 38 in Ross and Cromarty; 39 in Argyll, Caithness, Dumfries, Perth, and Wigtown; 40 in Elgin and Kirkcudbright; 41 in Berwick and Orkney; 42 in Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Forfar, Kinross, Peebles, and Roxburgh; 43 in Banff and Haddington; 44 in Clackmannan, Dumbarton, and Selkirk; 45 in Fife, Kincardine, and Renfrew; 48 in Ayr; 49 in Lanark; 50 in Stirling; and 55 in Linlithgow.

Proportion of Husbands and Wives in the Burghs.

In the Burghs, of every 100 Males above 15 years of age, nearly 51 (50·909 per cent.) were Husbands, varying from 44 per 100 in Inverness to 58 in Dysart. In Edinburgh the proportion is 48 per 100, in Glasgow, Greenock, and Perth 49, in Aberdeen and Paisley 51, in Leith 53, and in Dundee 54. The largest proportion being in Arbroath, Dunfermline, Kinning Park, and Kirkcaldy, each with 55, in Forfar with 56, and in Dysart with 58; the smallest being in Hamilton and Maryhill, with 47 each, Dumbarton with 45, and Inverness with only 44. (Table LXII.).

For similar information as to the Females, see Table LXIII., where of every 100 over 15 years of age, in the total Burghs, 45 are Wives, the proportion varying from 38 in Edinburgh and Dumfries to 66 in Motherwell, which is evidently a blessed spot for the Female sex, inasmuch as there, while Wives are proportionately more numerous, the Maidens and Widows are in smaller proportion than in any other Burgh in Scotland. In Aberdeen and Dundee the ratio is 41 per 100, in Paisley 42, in Perth 44, in Glasgow 47, in Leith 52, and in Greenock 53. The Wives are in greatest proportion in Govan, Kinning Park, and Wishaw, each with 59 per 100; and in Motherwell with 66, nearly 67; and in the smallest, in Inverness and Montrose, each with 40, while Edinburgh and Dumfries can boast of but 38.

Proportion of Husbands and Wives at three Groups of Ages.

Table XXXV. affords some information concerning the Conjugal Condition of the people of Scotland above 15 years of age at the Census 1881, when divided into three Groups of ages, viz., 15–45; 45–65; and 65 and upwards; and it is found that of Husbands 318,712 exist between 15–45, or 40·142 per cent. of the Men over 15 at these years; 184,318 between 45–65, or 77·953 per cent.; while from 65 years of age and over, there are 44,742 Husbands, or 58·030 per cent. of Men at these advanced years.

In the case of the Females, between 15–45, there are 369,442 Wives, or 42·864 per cent. of the Women at like years, and who are of marriageable age; between 45–65 there are 163,684, or 56·116 per cent.; and at 65 and above, 27,504 Wives, or 25·264 per cent.

On comparing the Males with the Females, we find the proportion of Husbands and Wives between 15–45 to be somewhat the same; but at the later periods they vary much, thus for 45–65, the proportion of the Husbands is 77·953 per cent., of the Wives 56·116 per cent., and at 65 and over, the former are 58·030 per cent., the latter but 25·264 per cent.

Tables XXXVI. and XXXVII. give similar information for England and Ireland, for sake of easy comparison; and it is seen that England stands first as having the highest proportion of Husbands and Wives to the total Males and Females over 15 years of age, Scotland next, and Ireland last, also corroborated by the perusal of the Marriage Registers of the three Countries for the last ten years, which show that for every 10,000 of Population, 162 Marriages take place in England, 72 in Scotland, and 47 in Ireland

Table XXXVIII. for Scotland corresponds to Table XXXV. for last Census 1871, the three groups of Ages now being arranged as for 1881.

Conjugal Condition of Males and Females at quinquennial periods.

In Tables XXXIX. and XL. the Conjugal Condition of the Males and Females of Scotland above 15 years of age is presented at quinquennial periods. From 15–20 years, there are but 527 Husbands, or 0·096 per cent. to the total Husbands; from 20–25, they have risen to 24,993, or 4·563 per cent.; from 25–30 they are 67,923, or 12·400 per cent.; then between 30–35, they reach the maximum of 77,492, or 14·147 per cent. to the total Husbands. After this they decline, and do so more gradually than they rose, but not until the age of 45 is reached do they fall below what they were between 20 and 25 years.

Table XL. affords similar information as to the Wives, who between 15–20 years of age stand at 3434, between 20–25 at 46,313, between 25–30 they are 83,705, between 30–35 they are 84,177, after which they decline steadily and gradually. Their percentage to the total Wives rises from 0·612 between 15–20 to 15·015 between 30–35, as in the case of the Husbands, but with the Wives the proportion between the years 35–50 are below those between 25–30, and so differ from what we found to be the case among the Husbands.

These Tables also show that between 15–40 Women marry in greater numbers than Men, but after 40 the Marriages of the Men outnumber those of the Females at like ages.

The mean age of the Husbands was greater by 3·0 years than that of the Wives, that of the former being 43·8, of the latter 40·8.

Bachelors and Spinsters.

The number of Bachelors at the Census was 1,192,713, at the ratio of 66·281 per cent. to the Male Population; the Spinsters numbered 1,216,921, or 62·854 per cent. to the Female Population. (Table XXXIII.).

The Bachelors amounted to 500,757, or 45·214 per cent. of the Men above 15 years of age; the Spinsters were 543,271, or 43·033 per cent. of the Women at the like periods; or in other words, for every 100 Bachelors there were 108 Spinsters, as against 114 at last Census, which statement is also supported by the Scottish Registrar

General's Reports, in which it is shown that marriages are in the proportion of 72 to every 10,000 persons. (Table XXXIV.).

On the same Tables are corresponding numbers for England and Wales and for Ireland. Of the former, at the same ages as for Scotland, 39·180 per cent. of the Men were Bachelors, and 36·738 per cent. of the Females, Spinsters; in Ireland the Bachelors being 50·814 per cent. and the Spinsters 44·793 per cent., a marked difference, showing the proportion of unmarried Men and Women to be so much lower in England than in Scotland, but higher in Ireland, where rather more than half of the Male Population of marriageable ages are Single.

Proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters at three Groups of Ages.

Upon Table XXXV. we have the ages of the Bachelors and Spinsters arranged in three groups, where it will be seen that of the marriageable Men between 15 and 45 years of age, 58·419 per cent. are Single, i.e., 584 among every 1000 are in this condition; between 45 and 65 there are 121 per 1000, and at 65 and over, 107 Bachelors exist in every 1000 Men over 15 years of age. In the case of the Females, 53·943 per cent. or 539 per 1000 Females over 15, are Spinsters between 15 and 45; from 45 to 65 there are 193, and over 65 they are in the proportion of 200 per 1000.

Tables XXXVI. and XXXVII. are corresponding Tables for England and Ireland, and it is readily seen that, at each of the three periods chosen between 15 years and the end of life, in England the proportion of unmarried stands lower than in Scotland in the case of both sexes; whilst in Ireland, on the other hand, the proportion of unmarried exceeds those in Scotland, except in the case of the Females after the age of 45.

Upon regarding the number of Bachelors as compared with Spinsters at various quinquennial periods, we find (Tables XXXIX. and XL.), that between the ages of 15 and 30 the Males exceed the Females by 17,373, the Male Population between these years being 397,995, the Female 380,622. After this age, however, the number of Males at each quinquennial period rapidly falls below the number of Females at corresponding years, the Spinsters over 30 numbering 162,649, the Bachelors 102,762.

Proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters in the Counties.

Tables LX. and LXI. afford information as to the varying proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters above 15 years of age to the Male and Female Population respectively in the different Counties of Scotland. For the Males (Table LX.) the mean for all Scotland is 45·214 per cent., or 452 Bachelors exist in Scotland in every 1000 Men of marriageable age. This is most exceeded in Nairn with 513, in Sutherland with 515, in Argyll with 522, and in Inverness with 527; most below the mean proportion for the whole country is Selkirk with 424, Kinross with 419, Shetland with 411, Forfar with 407, and Fife with only 398 Bachelors per 1000 of Male Population over 15 years of age.

In the case of the Females (Table LXI.) the mean of Spinsters for all Scotland is 43·033 per cent., or 430 per 1000, which is most exceeded in Inverness with 496, in Nairn with 500, in Sutherland with 521, and in Shetland with 531; and most under the average are the Counties of Ayr with 392, Lanark with 377, Stirling with 374, and least of all Linlithgow with 334 Spinsters per 1000.

Proportion of Bachelors and Spinsters in the Burghs.

In the Burghs we find (Table LXII.) the mean percentage of Bachelors to Men over 15, to be 44·060, and that this is most exceeded in Maryhill with 49,171 per cent. or 491 per 1000, in Dumbarton with 501, and in Inverness with 502; while most under the average is Arbroath with 382, Forfar with 373, and Dysart with 359. Among the Females (Table LXIII.) the average percentage of Spinsters in the Burghs is 41·278, which is most exceeded in Dumfries with 47·460 per cent. or 474 per 1000, Forfar with 477, and Edinburgh with 483; and most under the average are Falkirk with 328, Govan with 301, Kinning Park with 300, Wishaw with 284, and lastly Motherwell with only 238 Spinsters per 1000 Females over 15 years of age.

Widowers and Widows.

The Widowers in Scotland at the Census numbered 58,990, and the Widows 158547, i.e. of the total Males 3·728 per cent. were Widowers, and of the total Females 8·189 per cent. were Widows, or, if considering only those of marriageable ages, 5·327 per cent. of the Men were Widowers, and 12·559 per cent. of the Females were Widows. (Tables XXXIII. and XXXIV).

For every 100 Widowers there were 268 Widows in the population, or only 372 Widowers for every 1000 Widows.

Table XXXV. exhibits the number of Widowers and Widows over 15 years of age at three selected periods of life, and their proportion to the Men or Women at the same. From 15 to 45 the Widowers are 11,425, or in the proportion of 1·439 per cent. of the Men of those ages; from 45 to 65, they are 23,508, or 9·942 per cent. of the Men of these years are Widowed; and from 65 and above, they number 24,057, or 31·201 per cent. are Widowers.

Of the Females, the Widows between 15 and 45 numbered 27,523, or 3·193 per cent. of the Women of these same ages; from 45 to 65 they were 71,470, or 24·502 per cent; and from 65 and upwards they numbered 59,554, or the large porportion of 54·705 per cent. of the Women at the above ages are Widows.

Table XXXIV. exhibits for comparison information as to the number and proportion of Widowers and Widows to each sex at marriageable age in the three Divisions of the Kingdom.

Scotland has at the ratio of 53 Widowers and 125 Widows for every 1000 of the corresponding sex over 15 years of age; England has 55 Widowers and 116 Widows; whilst in Ireland it is 59 of the former and 144 of the latter.

The number of Widowers increased progressively from 15 to 65 and above, after which they fall off until the close of life; and the same occurs with the Widows, with the exception that between 55 and 60, there is a slight decline, which however is more than recovered from during the next quinquennial period, when Widows are more numerous than at any other period of life. (Tables XXXIX. and XL.).

On comparing Tables XXXV. and XXXVIII., which give the like information at the Censuses 1871 and 1881, we find that at 1881 the proportions of Widowers between 15 and 45, and of Widows between 15 and 65, are less than at the previous Census; but that the proportions of Widowers from 45 and over and of Widows from 65 and upwards have increased, not in any case very markedly, except in that of the Widowers of 65 and over, who now stand at 31·201 per cent. as against 29·439 per cent. to the total Men at each age at last Census.

Proportion of Widowers and Widows in the Counties.

On looking to the Counties, it is seen that in the case of the Males (Table LX.) the average proportion of Widowers to those above 15 years, which is 5·327 per cent., is exceeded in 21 of the Counties, being most so in Berwick and Roxburgh, where of every 1000 Men, 61 are Widowers, in Wigtown 63, in Kirkcudbright 65, in Dumfries 66, and in Kinross 74; and, on the other hand, under the mean are 12 Counties, most markedly so being Edinburgh with 49, Ross and Cromarty with 48, and Dumbarton and Linlithgow with but 47.

Table LXI. gives similar information as to the Widows. The average for Scotland is 12·559 per cent., which is exceeded in 14 of the Counties, most so in Ross and Cromarty with 130 Widows per 1000 Women over 15, in Shetland 134, in Argyll 138, and in Bute 147; on the other hand, in 19 of the Counties the proportion is below the average, and especially so in Kinross with 115 Widows per 1000 Females of over 15, in Kincardine with 113, in Berwick and Roxburgh with 104, in Selkirk with 103, and lowest in Peebles with but 91.

Proportion of Widowers and Widows in the Burghs.

Tables LXII. and LXIII. present the Conjugal Condition of the Men and Women above 15 years of age in the Burghs with over 10,000 inhabitants, and of their total Male Population, 24,530 are Widowers, and 75,796 Widows; in other words, 5·031 per cent. are of the former, and 13·368 of the latter. This mean as regards the Men has been exceeded in 24 of the Burghs, to the greatest degree in Montrose which has 60 Widowers per 1000 of Male Population over 15, in Hawick with 61, in Arbroath with 62, and in Dunfermline and Forfar, each with 63; on the other hand, in 18 the proportion is below the average, and chiefly so in Motherwell with 39, in Govan with 38, in Maryhill with 37, and Kinning Park with only 36 per 1000.

In the case of the Females (Table LXIII.) the average proportion of 13·368 per cent. of Widows to the Female Population of the total Burghs over 15 years of age, is exceeded in 19 of them, and at the head stands Ayr with 142 per 1000, Inverness with 142, Stirling with 143, Airdrie with 144, and Glasgow (Parliamentary Burgh) with 151; under the average, are 23 of those Burghs, the proportion being most marked in Hawick with 109, Maryhill with 104, Partick with 103, Kinning Park with 101, and Motherwell with but 92 Widows per 1000 of its Female Population of marriageable age.

BIRTH PLACES.

Nationalities of the Inhabitants of Scotland.

Of the total Population of Scotland 3,735,573, enumerated on the 4th day of April 1881, 3,397,759, or about 91 per cent., were Scotchmen and Women born and bred; of the remaining 9 per cent. rather over 8 per cent. were born in Ireland (5·856 per cent.), or in England (2·410 per cent.), the remainder of the population being composed of British Colonials, British subjects born abroad or at sea, in Wales, or the Channel Islands; or in other words, of every 100,000 of population, 90,957 were Scotch born, 5856 Irish, 2410 English, 345 British Colonial, 188 British subjects born abroad or at sea, 171 Foreigners, while 48 claimed Wales, and 25 the Channel Islands as their natal place. (Table XLVII.).

For the corresponding information as to the inhabitants of those Burghs in Scotland, having populations of 10,000 and upwards, see Table XLVIII., where we find that of their total population 1,640,360, those born in Scotland numbered 1,429,012, or 87·116 per cent. of the whole, and less than the percentage for the whole of Scotland. (See Table XLVII.).

The proportion of Irish and English born in the Burghs, is, on the other hand, as might be expected, greater than that for the whole of Scotland, the former constituting 8·634 per cent. of the population of the Burghs, the latter 3·134 per cent., or out of every 100,000 of population in these Burghs 87,116 were Scotch born, 8634 Irish, and 3134 English.

Proportion of English and Irish to the Population in the Counties.

Tables LXIV. and LXV. afford information as to the parts of the Country those born in Scotland or elsewhere are most to be found. English born inhabitants are most numerous in the Counties of Kirkcudbright with 4·051 per cent., in Edinburgh with 4·609 per cent., in Dumfries with 4·956 per cent., in Roxburgh with 5·678 per cent., and in Berwick with 6·401 per cent., Counties all bordering upon or near England, except in the case of Edinburgh, and there are special reasons for a considerable number of English born being here at the Census time, on account of its University, and Schools, &c.

Those of Irish nationality are most numerous in Wigtown with 6·112 per cent., in Ayr with 6·465 per cent., in Linlithgow with 7·647 per cent., in Dumbarton with 11·023 per cent., in Lanark with 12·214 per cent., and in Renfrew with 13·494 per cent. They are least numerous in Shetland, with 0·074 per cent. or 74 per 100,000 of population, and in the other Northern Counties. Edinburgh contains a greater number of British Colonials 0·878 per cent., also of British subjects born abroad or at sea 0·336 per cent., and of Foreigners 0·568 per cent., than any other county in Scotland.

Proportion of English and Irish in the Burghs.

On Tables LXVI. and LXVII. are the Birthplaces of the People in the Burghs with over 10,000 inhabitants, and we see that 3·134 per cent. of their population is English born. This proportion is exceeded to the greatest extent in Hawick with 5·709 per cent., in Maryhill with 5·883 per cent., in Dumfries with 6·436 per cent., and in Motherwell with 6·641 per cent., or 6641 per 100,000 of its inhabitants; the smallest proportions, on the other hand, being in Dunfermline with 0·919 per cent., and Forfar with 0·819 per cent. of English born. The Irish born, whose average in the whole Burghs is 8·634 per cent., bulk most largely in Partick with 18·289 per cent., in Dumbarton with 18·678 per cent., and in Port-Glasgow (Parliamentary) with 30·096 per cent., being smallest in Forfar with 0·445 per cent., in Peterhead with 0·337 per cent., and in Dysart with 0·304 per cent.

Foreigners.

Of British Colonial born persons, Edinburgh with 1·148 per cent., and Maryhill with 1·211 per cent., stand proportionally highest. While Foreigners are in by far the greater proportion in Leith with 2·199 per cent., many of whom, however, are sailors, and others not really residing in the Burgh. Upon looking into the figures more fully, it is found that of the 6399 persons enumerated as Foreigners in Scotland, 1125 were on board of 162 Foreign Vessels as Crews, &c., and 773 were Emigrants on board of three vessels on their way to America, and who were included in the Leith return. These numbers (1898) deducted from the total 6399 leave 4501 as the true resident Foreign population of Scotland, which is equal to 120 per 100,000 of inhabitants.

It appears that the number of Foreign Vessels is large in four Counties, viz:—Fife with 55, and Crews numbering 333 on board, Renfrew with 26 Ships, and Crews 233, Edinburgh with 30, and Crews 212, and Lanark with 15 Ships, and 96 Men on board as Crews, i.e., 873 of the above 1125 Foreigners were on board 126 of the total 162 Foreign Vessels.

On Tables LXVI. and LXVII. are found the numbers and proportion of the inhabitants of each Burgh born in the County or out of the County in which the Burgh is situated; while at the end of Tables LXIV. and LXV. we gain information as to eight of the largest Towns in Scotland, in many respects similar to what is in the former, but differing inasmuch as here we have the number and proportions of the inhabitants who were born in these Towns or out of them.

For further information regarding the Birthplaces of the Inhabitants of any County, see Section XIV. commencing at p. 324, or of a Burgh with a population of over 10,000, p. 360, where one can easily obtain the fullest particulars on this point for both Male and Female Residenters; e.g., take the town of Aberdeen, where we find that 82,818 of its population of 105,189 were born in Aberdeen, 203 came from Shetland, 135 from Orkney, and from the following Counties, 407 were from Caithness, 160 from Sutherland, 571 from Ross and Cromarty, 716 from Inverness, 132 from Nairn, 1226 from Elgin, 4316 from Banff, 4122 from Kincardine, 1885 from Forfar, 504 from Perth, 389 from Fife, 10 from Kinross, 68 from Clackmannan, 203 from Stirling, 44 from Dumbarton, 101 from Argyll, 4 from Bute, 168 from Renfrew, 177 from Ayr, 918 from Lanark, 48 from Linlithgow, 1081 from Edinburgh, 54 from Haddington, 29 from Berwick, 17 from Peebles, 34 from Selkirk, 52 from Roxburgh, 70 from Dumfries, 28 from Kirkcudbright, 38 from Wigtown. From England 2484 hailed, from Wales 23, Ireland 715, Channel Islands 27, British Colonies 686. Of British Subjects born abroad or at sea, there are 233, Foreigners 151; while the Birthplaces of 142 were not stated.

On scrutinizing Section XIV. commencing at p. 324, much information may be gained as to the movements of the Inhabitants of Scotland, e.g., the numbers which pass from one County to another seeking employment, and gaining a livelihood, &c. Take for example, Shetland and Wigtown, the first and last Counties, and we find that of the former, 1425 Males are living and presumably working in the other Counties of Scotland, 2338 Females being in a similar position; and in Wigtown, 5734 Males and 6344 Females born in that County, were at the date of the Census away from it, but not out of the country. In both these cases, taken haphazard, it is seen that the Female Emigrants from these two parts of Scotland are largely in excess of the Male; and that to a great extent, persons migrating from one County to another select a neighbouring one for the change.

The latter part of the Section is devoted to the distribution throughout Scotland of those born in other lands, and who have made it their home.

For the Ages of European Foreigners in Scotland see p. 74; for their Conjugal Condition, p. 319; and for their Occupations p. 890.

OCCUPATIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

Upon this occasion the general plan after which this series of Tables is drawn up, is that as recommended by the Registrar-General of England.

The fundamental Subdivision of the Occupations of the People is, as before, into 6 Classes:—I. PROFESSIONAL; II. DOMESTIC; III. COMMERCIAL; IV. AGRICULTURAL; V. INDUSTRIAL (or MANUFACTURING); and VI. UNOCCUPIED and NON-PRODUCTIVE (or INDEFINITE). Divisions of the Occupation.

These are again divided into 25 Orders, 3 being under Class I., 1 under Class II., 2 under Class III., 2 under Class IV., 15 under Class V., and the remaining 2 under Class VI. The Orders are still further subdivided in 81 Sub-Orders, embracing 432 Occupations, or groupings of Occupations, and in these may be found, as far as can possibly be attained, the number of those who state they belong to any Profession or Trade, &c.

At the Census of 1871, the Wives, Children, and Scholars were tabulated as Dependants on the various Orders or Sub-Orders, containing the Occupations to which the husbands and fathers were assigned. Upon the present occasion, it is not deemed expedient to continue this Classification, which was then adopted for the first time, and that in Scotland alone. The Wives, Children, and Scholars, and all others having no specified Occupation, now appear in Class VI., and thus the Classification is more in unison with that followed in England and Ireland.

In Class I., The PROFESSIONAL CLASS, there are three Orders (1–3): 1. Persons engaged in the General or Local Government of the Country; 2. Persons engaged in the Defence of the Country; and 3. Persons engaged in Professional Occupations (with their immediate Subordinates).

The Sub-Orders in this Class are 13 in number, of which three belong to Order I., viz., 1. Officers of the National Government; 2. Officers of the Local Government; 3. Officers of the East India and Colonial Service: two belong to Order 2, viz., 1. Army; 2. Navy: and eight belong to Order 3, viz., 1. Clergy of all Denominations, Theological Students, and Church Officers; 2. The Legal Profession; 3. The Medical Profession and Nurses; 4. Those engaged in Teaching; 5. Students, Literary and Scientific Persons; 6. Engineers and Surveyors; 7. Artists, Sculptors, Architects, Musicians, Art Students, and those employed in the Theatrical Profession; 8. Those engaged in Exhibitions, Shows, Games, &c.

In Class II., The DOMESTIC CLASS, there is but one Order (4), Persons engaged in Domestic Offices or Services; and two Sub-Orders: 1. Those employed in Domestic Service; 2. Those employed in other Service than simple Domestic.

Class III., The COMMERCIAL CLASS, has two Orders (5 and 6): 5. Persons engaged in Commercial Occupations; and 6. Persons engaged in Conveyance of Men, Goods, and Messages.

The Sub-Orders in this Class are eight in number, three belonging to Order 5, viz., 1. Merchants and Agents; 2. Dealers in Money; 3. Persons occupied in Insurance; and five to Order 6, viz., 1. Those employed on Railways; 2. on Roads; 3. on Canals, Rivers, and Seas; 4. Those employed in Storage; and 5. In conveying Messages, Porterage, &c.

Class. IV., AGRICULTURAL CLASS, contains two orders (7 and 8): 7. Persons engaged in Agriculture; 8. Persons engaged about Animals; and three Sub-Orders into which Order 7 is divided, viz., 1 Persons engaged in Fields and Pastures; 2. In Woods; and 3. In Gardens.

Class V., The INDUSTRIAL CLASS, consists of fifteen Orders (9 to 23), viz., 9. Persons Working and Dealing in Books, Prints and Maps; 10. Persons Working and Dealing in Machines and Implements; 11. Persons Working and Dealing in Houses, Furniture, and Decorations; 12. Persons Working and Dealing in Carriages and Harness; 13. Persons Working and Dealing in Ships and Boats; 14. Persons Working and Dealing in Chemicals and Compounds; 15. Persons Working and Dealing in Tobacco and Pipes; 16. Persons Working and Dealing in Food and Lodging; 17. Persons Working and Dealing in Textile Fabrics; 18. Persons Working and Dealing in Dress; 19. Persons Working and Dealing in various Animal Substances; 20. Persons Working and Dealing in various Vegetable Substances; 21. Persons Working and Dealing in various Mineral Substances; 22. Persons Working and Dealing in General and Unspecified Commodities; and 23. Persons and Dealing in Refuse Matters.

The Sub-Orders in Class V. number fifty-two, of which two are in Order 9, viz., 1. Those Dealing in Books, and 2. in Prints and Maps. In Order 10 there are eight Sub-Orders: 1. Those connected with Machines; 2. with Tools and Implements; 3. with Watches and Philosophical Instruments; 4. with Surgical Instruments; 5. with Arms and Ordnance; 6. with Musical Instruments; 7. with Types, Dies, Medals, and Coins; and 8. with Tackle for Sport and Games. In Order 11 there are three Sub-Orders: 1. Those connected with Houses; 2. with Furniture and Fittings; 3. with House Decorations. In Order 12 there are two Sub-Orders: 1. Those connected with Carriages, and 2. with Harness. In Order 13 there are two Sub-Orders: 1. Those dealing with the Hulls, and 2. with the Masts and Rigging of Ships. There are three Sub-Orders in Order 14, viz., 1. Workers in Colouring Matters; 2. in Explosives; and 3. in Drugs and other Chemicals. Order 15 includes those working with Tobacco and Pipes. In Order 16 there are three Sub-Orders: 1. Those dealing in Board and Lodging; 2. in Spirituous Drinks; and 3. in Food. In Order 17 there are five Sub-Orders: 1. Workers in Wool and Worsted; 2. in Silk; 3. in Cotton and Flax; 4. in Hemp and other Fibrous Materials; and 5. in Mixed and Unspecified Materials. Order 18 is devoted to those Dealing and Working in Dress. Order 19 contains three Sub-Orders: 1. Dealers in Gut, Bone, Horn, &c.; 2. in Skins; 3. in Hair and Feathers. Order 26 is divided into four Sub-Orders: 1. Workers in Oils, Gums, and Resins, &c.; 2. in Cane, Rush, and Straw; 3. in Wood and Bark; and 4. in Paper. In Order 21 there are twelve Sub-Orders: 1. Miners; 2. Workers in Coal, Gas, &c.; 3. in Stone, Clay, and Road-making; 4. in Earthenware and Glass; 5. in Salt; 6, in Water; 7. in Precious Metals and Jewellery; 8. in Iron and Steel; 9. in Copper; 10. in Tin and Zinc; 11. in Lead; and 12. in other Mixed and Unspecified Metals. In Order 22 there are two Sub-Orders:

1. Makers and Dealers (General or Undefined), 2. Mechanics or Labourers (General or Undefined). Order 23 contains no Sub-Order.

Class VI., UNOCCUPIED and NON-PRODUCTIVE, contains two Orders (24 and 25) viz., 1. Persons without specified Occupations, among others, Wives, Daughters, and other Dependants without any special Occupation; and 2. Scholars and Children of no stated Occupation.

Numbers employed at Occupations.

The first facts to note in connection with an analysis of the Occupation Tables are, that in 1881, out of a total Population of 3,735,573 (Males 1,799,475 and Females 1,936,098), the total number returned as engaged in some Occupation is 1,606,984, or 43·018 per cent. of the Population. The Male Workers are returned as 1,108,713, or 61·613 per cent. of the Males are at work, and the Females as 498,271, so that 25·736 per cent. of them were also employed. In 1871, out of a Population of 3,360,018, there were 1,468,585 Persons, or 43·707 per cent. of the Population, at work. The Male workers, out of a total Male Population of 1,603,143, numbered 977,980, or 61·003 per cent. of the Male Sex were earning their bread; and the Females, out of a total Population of 1,756,875, numbered 490,605, so that 27·925 per cent. of the gentler Sex were engaged with some kind or other of Occupation. Table XLIX. gives the numbers in each class of Occupation and their proportion to the total Population at 1881, and for the sake of comparison similar information for 1871 is placed alongside, the numbers in the latter being altered in order they may correspond with those in the present classification.

Among these six Classes, we remark that changes larger or smaller have occurred in each one. Thus the proportions of the Professional, Commercial, and Industrial Classes to the total Population have increased, while those of the Domestic, Agricultural, and Unoccupied have decreased, during the Decennium.

In the case of the AGRICULTURAL CLASS, this Decrease presents a marked difference to that which occurred during the previous 10 years 1861–1871, when the numercial fall was, as we shall notice farther on, very great.

In 1881 the PROFESSIONAL CLASS numbered 96,103, or 2·57 per cent. of the total Population were thus employed; in 1871 it contained 72,911 persons, or 2·17 per cent. of the Population.

In the DOMESTIC CLASS in 1881 there are found 176,565 individuals, or 4·73 per cent. of all persons; in 1871 they were 159,403, or 1·74 per cent. of the Population.

The COMMERCIAL CLASS number at the present Census 132,126 persons, or 3·54 per cent. of the Population are gaining their livelihood in the various Occupations included under this head; in 1871 they were 114,694, or 3·41 per cent.

In the AGRICULTURAL CLASS, 269,537 persons are found to be employed, or 7·21 per cent. of the whole Population; while in 1871 they numbered 270,008, i.e., in the proportion of 8·04 per cent. The falling off in their numbers during the last 10 years is infinitesimal compared with what it was during the preceding Decennium, when the numbers enumerated at Census 1861 were 372,247, a Decrease therefore during the period from 1861 to 1871 of no less than 102,239 persons, that between 1871 and 1881 being but 471 persons.

There are now 932,653 individuals working in the great INDUSTRIAL CLASS, or 24·97 per cent. of the Population of Scotland are in this way employed. In 1871 they numbered 751,281, or 22·36 per cent. of the Population at that date. The Increase being no less than 181,372.

The proportion of the Population of the UNOCCUPIED or NON-PRODUCTIVE CLASS has now fallen below what it was in 1871, the figures showing this being re-arranged in Table XLIX., as previously mentioned, to suit the present plan. This Decrease is partly due to the fact, that at the Census of 1871 Paupers were included in this Class; but on this occasion they are returned under the Occupation or Trade at which they were wont to work. The number enumerated in this Class is 2,128,589, or 56·98 per cent. of the whole Population. At last Census it was 1,991,721, or 59·28 per cent. of the then Population.

Summary of Occupations

Table LXVIII. presents a summary of the Occupations of the people in Scotland, Males and Females, over and under 20 years of age, giving at a glance the number of either Sex, and totals of those occupied in each Class, Order, and Sub-Order; and on Table LXIX. is given the proportion per cent. in which the above are engaged in the different Classes, Orders, and Sub-Orders of Occupations. The figures on the latter Table may thus be read; e.g., of the six Classes, we see that of every 100,000 inhabitants of Scotland, 2573 persons belonged to the Professional Class, 4727 belonged to the Domestic Class, 3537 to the Commercial Class, 7215 to the Agricultural Class, 24,967 to the Industrial Class, and 56,981 to the Unoccupied Class, and in like manner with the Orders and Sub-Orders.

I. Professional Class, contains 65,499 Males and 30,604 Females. Of these 6268 Males and 1005 Females are employed in the National Government; 5807 Males and 146 Females in the Local Government of the Country; 9 Males belong to the East India and Colonial Service; 6824 Males and 3 Females belong to the Army (at Home); 1481 Males and 2 Females to the Navy (Ashore or in Port); 6204 Males and 528 Females return themselves as Members of the Clerical Profession; 6732 Males of the Legal; and 4575 Males and 2724 Females of the Medical; 7342 Males and 10,460 Females are Teachers; 14,110 Males and 14,006 Females are Literary and Scientific Persons; 1411 Males are Engineers and Surveyors; 4346 Males and 1707 Females are Artists; and 390 Males and 23 Females are engaged in Exhibitions, Shows, Games, &c.

II. Domestic Class, numbers 25,292 Males and 151,273 Females; and of these 24,431 Males and 134,407 Females are in Domestic Service; 861 Males and 16,866 Females in other Service.

III. Commercial Class.—126,743 Males and 5383 Females compose this Class. 37,741 Males and 2296 Females are Merchants and Agents; 3998 Males and 1 Female Dealers in Money; 1812 Males and 6 Females are occupied in Insurance; 18,497 Males and 59 Females are employed on Railways; 24,975 Males and 241 Females on Roads; 22,354 Males and 82 Females on Canals, Rivers, and Seas; 2542 Males and 175 Females in Storage; and 14,824 Males and 2523 Females in conveying Messages, Porterage, &c.

IV. Agricultural Class.—215,215 Males and 54,322 Females were engaged in Agricultural Employments, viz., 170,582 Males and 51,240 Females in Fields and Pastures; 3103 Males and 5 Females in Woods; 3676 Males and 402 Females in Gardens; and 37,854 Males and 2,675 Females about Animals.

V. Industrial Class.—675,964 Males and 256,689 Females were engaged in Occupations under this heading. Of the various Trades connected with these 10,866 Males and 3926 Females were Workers in Books; 1319 Males and 194 Females in Prints and Maps; 32,507 Males and 223 Females in Machines; 877 Males and 28 Females in Tools and Implements; 3073 Males and 47 Females in Watches and Philosophical Instruments; 57 Males and 9 Females in Surgical Instruments; 225 Males and 1 Female in Arms and Ordnance; 337 Males and 3 Females in Musical Instruments; 596 Males and 96 Females in Types, Dies, Medals, and Coins; 336 Males and 185 Females in Tackle for Sports and Games; 96,042 Males and 99 Females in Houses; 8779 Males and 2184 Females in Furniture and Fittings; 1380 Males and 55 Females in House Decorations; 3641 Males and 5 Females in Carriages; 2131 Males and 19 Females in Harness; 16,647 Males and 16 Females in Hulls of Ships; 1823 Males and 6 Females in Masts, Rigging, &c.; 382 Males and 43 Females in Colouring Matters; 196 Males and 250 Females in Explosives; 4752 Males and 415 Females in Drugs and other Chemicals and Compounds; 1600 Males and 1247 Females in Tobacco and Pipes; 2355 Males and 6356 Females in Board and Lodging; 10,265 Males and 1113 Females in Spirituous Drinks; 55,183 Males and 14,744 Females in Food; 14,943 Males and 20,703 Females in Wool and Worsted; 1751 Males and 1412 Females in Silk; 22,615 Males and 57,450 Females in Cotton and Flax; 6474 Males and 15,582 Females in Hemp and other Fibrous Materials: 25,013 Males and 35,924 Females in Mixed or Unspecified Materials; 48,493 Males and 62,828 Females in Dress; 1415 Males and 295 Females in Grease, Gut, Bone, Horn, Ivory, and Whalebone; 3650 Males and 195 Females in Skins; 650 Males and 473 Females in Hair and Feathers; 3414 Males and 466 Females in Oils, Gums, and Resins; 747 Males and 72 Females in Cane, Rush, and Straw; 13,165 Males and 295 Females in Wood and Bark; 5264 Males and 7529 Females in Paper; 67,908 Males and 439 Females in Mines; 6182 Males and 136 Females in Coal, Coal Gas, &c.; 24,819 Males and 419 Females in Stone, Clay, and Road Making; 4137 Males and 1694 Females in Earthenware and Glass; 71 Males and 6 Females in Salt; 288 Males and 1 Female in Water; 1394 Males and 96 Females in Precious Metals and Jewellery; 62,376 Males and 218 Females in Iron and Steel; 779 Males in Copper; 3645 Males and 118 Females in Tin and Zinc; 170 Males and 14 Females in Lead; 5992 Males and 259 Females in other Mixed or Unspecified Metals; 9186 Males and 10,088 Females were General or Undefined Makers or Dealers; 84,839 Males and 8,534 Females were General or Undefined Mechanics, Labourers; while 1215 Males and 449 Females worked at Trades connected with Refuse Matters.

VI. Unoccupied Class.—This Class numbers 690,762 Males and 1,437,827 Females, of whom 39,241 Males and 790,814 Females are returned as persons of Property, Rank, or of no Occupation, &c., and 651,521 Males and 647,013 Females are Scholars and Children of no stated Occupation.

On Table LXX. we have the number of the Males and Females tabulated in the various Classes of Occupations in Scotland, and in its different Counties. On Table LXXI. is the proportion per cent. of the Males and Females following each Class of Occupation in the several Counties, as compared with the Total Numbers following that Class of Occupations in all Scotland; and on Table LXXII. is the proportion per cent. of Males and Females as above, in the various Counties as compared with the Total Males and Females of each County. More full information as to the numbers following each Class, Order, and Sub-Order of Occupations in the various Counties and Burgh of Scotland will be found p. 414 et seq.

The number of the three Liberal Professions, Divinity, Law, and Medicine, which at last Census nearly equalled each other, differ at this, inasmuch as the latter now much outnumbers those of the other two, which are exactly the same, viz., Divinity and Law, each with 6732 representatives; while Medicine claims 7299, of whom, however, 2724 are Females, e.g., Nurses, Midwives, &c.

Table L. gives the numbers employed in the different Counties of Scotland in the following Industries, viz., in Wool, Cotton and Flax, and Hemp and Jute Manufactories; in Coal and Iron Stone Mining, and Shipbuilding.

Workers in Wool most preponderate in Selkirk, Shetland, Lanark and Roxburgh, in the second presumably because so many of the Females are Knitters, also in Clackmannan, Stirling, Dumfries, and Ayr; those in Cotton and Flax bulk most largely in Lanark, Renfrew, Fife, and Forfarshires, followed by Dumbarton, Perth, Stirling, and Aberdeen; whilst the Hemp and Jute Industry is comparatively confined to Forfarshire with 16,632 Workers, Lanark coming next with 1286, Perth with 917, and Edinburgh with 712. Coal Mining affords occupation to the largest numbers in Lanark, Ayr, Fife, Edinburgh, Stirling, and Linlithgowshires; while Ironstone Mining does the same in Ayr and Lanark. Shipbuilding claims the largest number in Lanark, Renfrew, Dumbarton, Forfar, Aberdeen, and Edinburghshires.

Numbers and Proportions of Domestic Servants.

Table LI. gives the numbers of Domestic Servants and their percentage to the total inhabitants in the various Counties and some of the Burghs in Scotland in 1881, when we find that among the former Nairn stands highest, with the proportion of 8·44 per cent. of Servants to its Population; Edinburgh comes next with 7·70 per cent., and Elgin next with 6·54 per cent. The Counties in which the smallest proportion of Servants are kept are Banff with 2·97 per cent., and Orkney with 2·84 per cent. In the Burghs, the highest proportion occurs in Edinburgh with 9·42 per cent., in Inverness with 8·69 per cent., Ayr with 6·19 per cent., and Dumfries with 6·39 per cent.; the lowest proportion being in Rutherglen with 1·91 per cent., in Port-Glasgow and Kinning Park, each with 1·89 per cent., and in Dysart with 1·22 per cent. The proportion in Glasgow is 3·60 per cent.

Farmers.

In Section XV. p. 862 et seq. information as to the Farmers in Scotland is found, and among other things we see that the total number of such is 55,199. Of these 40,973 made some return as to the size of their holding and number of hands employed, whilst 14,226 made no such return.

Of the 40,973 who made returns 40,464 gave the acreage of the Land in their occupation, 509 giving no information upon this point. Again we find that 19,124 Farmers returned the number of Adult Male Labourers employed on their Farms. The total number of Men employed is 54,902, of Boys 12,576, of Women 18,421, and of Girls 14,933; in all 100,832 are engaged in Agricultural Work upon 19,219 Farms, i.e., the number of Farms upon which Men are returned as employed 19,124, plus 95 Farms upon which no Men were employed, only Boys, Women, or Girls.

As to the size of the Farms, 2361 are under 5 Acres, 4106 between 5 and 10 Acres; the total number under 50 Acres is 18,105, between 50 and 100 Acres 7031, between 100 and 500 Acres there are 12,826, and over 500 Acres there are 2502 Farms, the Acreage of 509 besides not being stated . Upon Abstract Tables, p. 864 to 874 p. as full information as can be obtained is given as to the Agricultural Statistics of the County as divided into Divisions and Counties; but at the same time we may state that in a few cases the return made in the different Counties by Farmers as to Acreage and number of Labourers does not necessarily apply to the County under which the information is tabulated, as it does happen that some Farmers occupy land in more than one County, but each marking the Return from his place of residence includes his whole holding, &c. in one Schedule.

The usual arrangements preliminary to the taking of the Census, such as the issuing of Instructions for the guidance of the various persons employed throughout the Country, the distribution of Enumeration Books, Schedules, &c., as well as the subsequent Audit and Payment of the Government allowances were undertaken by the ordinary staff of the Registrar General's-Department. The very satisfactory manner in which the Census Schedules, &c. were, as a rule, filled up and returned to this Office, indicated that the work of these preliminary arrangements was efficiently performed, and we may also add affords evidence of the goodwill and intelligence with which the people generally lent their co-operation in taking the Census.

In conclusion, we cannot omit to refer to the great loss which the public service has sustained in the death of Dr Robertson, who so ably discharged the duties of an Assistant to the Registrar-General in the preparation of the First Volume of this Report upon the Census. It is in great measure due to his capacity for organisation, and his skill in training a staff of workers, that the compilation of the Tables for the present Volume has proceeded to completion, without material interruption.

It is also due to the Superintendents, Messrs Ralph and Slater, and to the Clerks employed upon the work of the Census, that we should take this opportunity of expressing our sense of the ability and industry with which they have performed the duties intrusted to them.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most faithful Servants,

STAIR AGNEW,

Registrar-General.

R. J. BLAIR CUNYNGHAME, M.D.,

Assistant to the Registrar-General in the Matter of the Census.
